YOUR CONVENTION CITY

MILWAUKEE

Over a century before the English colonies along the east coast of America united to form a new nation, a French missionary, Father Jacques Marquette, beached his canoe amid the rushes and wild rice at the Milwaukee River's mouth on the shores of Lake Michigan, site of the future leading metropolis of a great and wealthy state.

Louis Joliet, La Salle, the English trader Alexander Henry, La Franboise, Mirandean, and others followed briefly for more than a century before Jacques Vieau and Solomon Juneau, Milwaukee's first mayor, established a permanent fur trading post here about 1820. Though La Salle had recorded the French version of the Indian word "Millico" meaning "good lands," for which Milwaukee is named, the early city was divided, like Gaul, in three parts, and was known as Juneautown, Kilbourntown, and Walker's Point, after its three founders. Each of the three areas having been independently planned, none of the streets approached the river at the same places, and today's diagonal bridges and hap-hazard street patterns are a memorial to the rivalry which preceded the incorporation of the three settlements into city wards in 1846.

Defeat of the intellectual liberals in Germany in 1848 brought to Milwaukee an influx of fine citizens of Germanic origin, who soon comprised the major portion of the population. Not only by sheer weight of numbers, but by their inherent love of theatre, fine music, literature, art, lectures, and habits of good living, they made the 40's the Golden Age of Milwaukee. The "forty-eighters" brought their turnvereins, biergartens, and weinstubes to the American Munich, as the city came to be called, and whole families gathered in the landscaped groves, some of which accommodated many thousands of people, to hear concerts, dance, and take part in gymnastics and debates. Martini's coffee shop was a symbol of the charm of Milwaukee's Stamm-tisch days, recorded by Edna Ferber in her book, "Dawn O'Hara."

City-owned riparian rights make Milwaukee lake front parks, airports, and harbour facilities unusually good. Debt-free because of good government and careful municipal planning, Milwaukee looks confidently toward her future as a great lake gateway to the American Northwest.

Preface

It is with considerable pride and satisfaction that I am privileged to present to you this, my first, National Convention Sale.

It has been accomplished only with the help and cooperation of a great many friends, particularly members of the Milwaukee Coin Club, A. N. A. Officers, and the many collectors who consigned the fine material presented in this catalogue.

I shall be eternally grateful for the confidence and complete cooperation of those whose help I solicited in the preparation of this Sale, and without which it could not have been accomplished.

I wish to thank all of those who contributed to the compilation of this Catalogue and hope that my efforts to conduct a fine Auction will meet with success.

QUARTERS — HALF DOLLARS — PROOF SETS

WASHINGTON QUARTER SET

Lot No.	Estimate
171. 1932 through 1946, all dates and mints inclusive. A choice Uncirculated set in National pages	$ 100.00

LATE PROOF SETS

172. A complete series 1936 through 1942. Seven complete sets in holders. All coins are brilliant	120.00
---	--------

COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS — TYPE SET

173. A complete type set 1892 to date. One of each and every issue in descriptive holders. This is fast becoming the most popular method of collecting this interesting series; certainly the most sensible and economical. This is a better than average set, all coins Uncirculated, 47 pcs.	250.00
---	--------

U. S. HALF DOLLARS

174. 1795 A nice evenly worn coin, About Fine	12.50
175. 1797 One of the rarest in the Half Dollar series. The coin shows moderate, even wear; was purchased as being from the Colonel Green Estate and represented as Very Fine. Conservatively, I am calling it Fine plus. Very rare and desirable; worthy of a place in any collection	250.00
176. 1805 About Very Fine	7.50
177. 1835-37-61 Extremely Fine to About Uncirculated, 3 pcs.	7.50
178. 1891, 1911 Unc. but field in both slightly rubbed, 2 pcs.	9.00

216. 1872 Uncirculated, mint lustre but slight abrasions	7.50

Morgan Type

(The Dollars of this series were stored and shipped in large bags by the Mint. This accounts for strictly Uncirculated coins being marred. In classifying this collection, I will call attention to those having more than the usual amount of abrasions, as well as those having less.)

217. 1878 7 and 8 Tail feathers, Uncirculated, 2 pieces	7.50
218. 1878-79-80-81-82 All S mints, Uncirculated, 5 pieces	12.50

Coins of Brabant

The Joannes J. Verdebout Collection

Mr. Verdebout spent over twenty-five years assembling this specialized Collection. Brabant, central district of the Lowlands of Holland and Belgium, was the home and birthplace of Mr. Verdebout. This accounts for his great interest and knowledge of this series. There being no reference work on these coins available in the English language, we have given detailed classifications with many photographs so that it may be used as a guide to Collectors of Brabant coins in the future.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL COIN

SYRACUSE DECADRACHM BY KIMON

LOT 915

SYRACUSE (Sicily) 405-367 B. C. Decadrachm. Head of Persephone with four dolphins in field. Reverse: Driver racing victorious quadriga, winged figure overhead. Issued to commemorate victory over Athens.

Designed by Kimon, who was unequalled during the world's greatest art period. All numismatic authorities agree that these coins are the master works of the art of coinage throughout the ages.

This Extremely Fine specimen is from the J. Pierpont Morgan Collection, purchased in London in the early 1920's for $2,500.00. This beautiful work of art is certainly worth as much, or more, today. Such a masterpiece will add distinction to any collection and a source of pride and satisfaction to the owner.

RARE AND UNUSUAL U. S. GOLD COINS

950. 1929 Half Eagle ($5.00 gold). This is the rarest date of the Indian Head type. Has been advancing in price since first recognized as a rarity, reaching a record of $475.00 in the W. G. C. Sale conducted by Numisatic Galleries in 1946. This specimen is absolutely Uncirculated and shows only a few light hairlines, most likely caused by coming in contact with other coins when minted, or in shipment from the mint, which was usually in bags. This is only mentioned because of the rarity of this coin.

951. 1868 $3.00 Gold, Extremely Fine, microscopic edge nick	25.00
952. 1871 $3.00 Gold, Extremely Fine with Proof surface but light scratch in front of face. Only 1330 coined	30.00
953. 1872 Practically Uncirculated, some lustre, scarce	35.00

RARE AND CHOICE LARGE CENTS

U. S. LARGE CENTS

Lot No.	Estimate
1013. 1793 Chain variety. Crosby 1-A. This is the first type United States Cent struck with "America" abbreviated AMERI . This is an exceptionally choice, as well as rare, Cent showing only the slightest wear on the very highest points. A medium brown, attractive color. Purchased from Henry Chapman in 1920 as Extremely Fine, which I consider a very conservative classification	$ 350.00
1014. 1793 Chain variety. Crosby 3-C but a variety unpublished. The top of the "R" in Liberty is open, giving it the appearance of a "K" as on the "Libekty" variety of 1796. There have been many explanations as to how this occurred but none can be conclusive. I can guarantee that it was done at the mint as the coin has not been tampered with in any way. Fine to Very Fine. Plate XI	250.00
1015. 1793 Chain variety. Crosby 4-C. Periods after date and legend. Has very slight die break on edge to left of date. Medium brown color. Also purchased from Chapman in 1920 as Extremely Fine which, in my opinion, is a conservative grading. A choice, rare, desirable Cent	300.00
1016. 1793 Wreath type with lettered edge. Crosby 11-J. Dark chocolate brown; full border beading on Obverse and nearly so on Reverse. Microscopic nick on edge which does not detract in any way from the coin. This lettered edge variety is very scarce. Very Fine plus	100.00
1017. 1796 Fillet Head or Bust type. Gilbert 13. Die break extending from back of hair through date to edge. The upper half of the Reverse rather weak struck, as is characteristic of this variety. This coin is Uncirculated and a reddish, brown color. While an attractive coin, it does show signs of having been mishandled as there is slight roughness in the field which could have been caused by bumping against other coins. It is still a very rare and desirable Cent, choice enough for any collection	150.00
1018. 1798 Large low date. Heavy die break on Reverse. The "of" and "A" in American weak struck. Extremely Fine plus	25.00

THE FINEST KNOWN 1799 OVER 98 CENT

UNCIRCULATED 1799 OVER 98 LARGE CENT

LOT 1019

1799 over 98 Uncirculated, dark steel, almost black in color. Well struck, full border beading on both obverse and reverse. Pin-point planchet defect on neck which does not detract from appearance of coin. Plain over-date.

This Cent first came to light about fifty years ago as part of the Dr. Hall Collection. Virgil Brand purchased this coin, along with the entire collection, in the early 1920's. I first knew of, and owned, this coin in 1939, buying it from the late Mr. B. G. Johnson who acted as agent for most of the Brand Collection. In 1940, I sold this 1799 Cent to Mr. C. David Pierce for $1,500.00 It proved a very good investment for when his collection of Cents was sold at auction in 1945, it brought $2,000.00. It was purchased by Mr. R. Barnhart of Nazareth, Pa. I owned this coin for the second time in 1948 when I purchased his splendid collection of Cents. It was sold immediately to a prominent Southern collector who has consigned it, along with other items, for this Sale.

This coin compares favorably with the Hines specimen which is the perfect date, and the only other 1799 Large Cent with any claim to being Uncirculated (recently purchased by an Ohio collector for $1,800.00). The over-date is much the rarer of the two varieties.

Large Cents are one of the most popular of the United States series. The 1799 is the rarest date, the over-date being the rarer of the two. Consequently, this Uncirculated specimen of the 1799 over-date, without a doubt the finest known, is one of the most sought-after coins and, as such, is one of the most valuable. I am not predicting what price this coin will bring, but there should be some spirited bidding and see no reason why it should sell for less than in 1945.

LARGE CENTS

Lot No.	Estimate
1020. 1801 Fraction 1/000. Uncirculated with glossy, medium brown surface. Shows no sign of wear, but has a few barely noticeable hair-line marks in field. A very rare and desirable Cent	$ 150.00
1021. 1803 Fraction 1/100 cut over 1/000. Uncirculated, sharply struck with full border beading on both Obverse and Reverse. Medium steel color. Slight die lump under chin, giving the appearance of goiter on Liberty's neck. This is a very beautiful and extremely rare Cent, also from the Barnhart Collection	175.00
1022. 1803 Unicorn variety. Sheldon 245. Derives it's name from a die impression between the chin and bust, resembling this fabulous animal. Heavy edge die break on Reverse. Dark brown. Extremely Fine	25.00

Complete Set of Large Cents

1048.	Complete set of Large Cents, missing only the 1799. The 1793 and 1804 are only About Good but have plain readable dates. The balance through 1814 will average Very Good, some a little less, some a little better. 1816 through 1857 will average close to Fine. This collection is housed in a special leatherette binder and makes a very attractive collection for the average collector. 63 pieces and binder	135.00

ORIGINAL DIES FOR WASHINGTON CENTS

ORIGINAL DIES FOR U. S. COLONIAL COINS

Lot No.

Estimate

1049. 1783 Washington Cent Dies, both the obverse and reverse die from which these coins were struck. This is the variety without die break, the same die used in restriking this Cent, the type with engrailed edge. This, as well as the following two dies, are in perfect condition and I have been assured by an authority that they could be used on modern equipment with but slight adjustments. However, it is my personal opinion that these historical and exceedingly rare items should be in a museum, preserved for posterity, rather than commercialized. Plate below illustrates coin struck from this die$ 750.00

1050. 1783 Dies for Washington Draped Bust Cent, same as preceding lot and above photograph, except that it is the variety with heavy die break on obverse. No coins have been restruck from this die since its use by the Colonies. Both the obverse and reverse dies in remarkable condition. Extremely rare 750.00

(Note: These dies were the property of the late Mr. B. G. Johnson. On one of my visits to St. Louis before his death, he showed me these dies and told me that they had been purchased during the Depression from a prominent New England collector. I know that on several occasions he refused to sell them, due to the possibility of their being misused.)

THE MANLY MEDAL

ORIGINAL DIES FOR THE MANLY MEDAL

LOT 1051

1790 Dies for the Manly Medal. Bust of George Washington, date of birth below. Reverse: Inscription listing historical attainments. This is believed to be the first Washington Medal struck in this country. Presumably executed by Samuel Brooks of Philadelphia and modeled by Joseph Wright of Newburyport. Medals struck from this die are very rare and there have been no re-strikes made. Both the obverse and reverse dies are in exceptionally Fine condition; a photograph of a specimen of these dies is pictured above. A very rare and historical item$ 750.00

UNITED STATES DIMES

1052.	1797 13 Stars, Very Good to About Fine	40.00
1053.	1874 CC (Carson City) Mint. About Fine. This is another one of those very rare, under-rated mint marks	75.00

UNITED STATES HALF DIMES

Lot No.		Estimate
1054.	1794 Very Good throughout	$ 25.00
1055.	1800 Fine to Very Fine	15.00
1056.	1800 Liberty spelled "Libekty" Fine and rare	20.00

Rare 1802 Half Dime

1057.	1802 The rarest date of the Half Dimes and one of the rarities in the United States series. The date is very bold and sharp; most of the stars, design and lettering, are plain on the obverse but coin has apparently been bent and straightened. The reverse is badly worn, though most of the eagle shows. I consider it Fair to Good and more than a space-filler since the date is so plain. This is one of the earliest known specimens, one of the sixteen written up by Hazeltine, supposedly found in change by streetcar or horse-car operator. I first handled this specimen which, incidentally, was the first of six I have owned, in 1941. It was sold in one of my Central States Auction Sales to the present owner for $160.00. It should bring nearly double this price today	250.00
1058.	1853 O Mint, A very rare variety without arrows at date. Fine but date struck weak as usual	35.00
1059.	1860 The rare variety with obverse of 1859, reverse of 1860. Supposedly only 100 struck. This coin catalogues at $100.00 but is worth, and is consistently bringing, more. Choice Uncirculated	125.00

UNITED STATES QUARTERS

1060.	1842 Large date, Brilliant Proof, lightly tarnished with several hair marks noticeable with glass. A very rare and choice coin in this condition	35.00
1061.	1867 S Mint, small mint mark. Good to Very Good	5.00
1062.	1870 CC Mint, Very Good to About Fine. Certainly an acceptable specimen of this rare and under-rated coin.	50.00
1063.	1891 O Mint, Extremely Fine, lightly tarnished, showing very little signs of circulation. This is another coin which is very much in demand and seldom obtainable	75.00

COLONIAL COINS AND CURRENCY

CONNECTICUT CENTS

Lot No.

Estimate

1281. 1785 to 1788 Collection of Connecticut Cents. This is a die variety collection formed by a New England Collector. All but a very few are classified. While I do not guarantee these attributions, the party who made them is well qualified and they should be correct. The collection includes, approximately, coins of the following dates: 1785 (5), 1786 (15), 1787 (65), 1788 (7), a total of 92 coins. A few of the scarce varieties noted are African Head, 1786 Large Head, Mailed Bust, Double Chin variety, Small Head, several with error in spelling and struck over other Colonial coins. This collection runs from About Good to Very Fine and I believe will average Very Good. 92 pieces$ 150.00

COLONIAL CURRENCY

1282. Collection of Colonial Currency, containing approximately the following: Conn. (5); Dela. (15); Md. (41); Mass. (9); N. Jer. (17); N. Y. (9); N. Car. (5); Penn. (34); R. I. (11); S. Car. (6); Va. (21); Phila. and Continental Congress, etc., (44). Also four very rare Essay pieces signed on untrimmed sheets, and a reference book on U. S. Paper Money by George Blake. I have not checked this Collection for rare varieties but did notice three of the early notes of 1775-76. There are very few, if any, duplicates as this is a collection and not an accumulation. There are a few worn, ragged, and repaired pieces but the vast majority are Very Fine or better. Conservatively, it will average Fine. This collection was purchased before 1937 and cost over $250.00. I have not checked catalogue value on these but they certainly should be worth 50% more today. 217 pieces 375.00
